

CITY TAX RATE TO BE REDUCED

WILL BE $1.50 PER ONE HUNDRED INSTEAD OF $1.75.

THE DISCUSSION IS INFORMAL

But it is Agreed to With Assessments to Be 75 Per Cent of Full Value.

Waco city property will be assessed for the year 1913 on the basis of 75 per cent of its full value, as against 80-2-3 per cent for the year 1912. The tax rate for 1913 will be $1.50 on the $100 valuation, instead of $1.75 on the $100 for the year 1912. The net value of the assessment rolls for the year 1913 will be $35,500,000, as against $20,000,000 for the year 1912.

The city will have an increased revenue of one-eighth the full amount, but the increase will fall on the large owners and upon public service corporations.

The board of equalization, composed of C. M. Hubby, E. W. Marshall and S. H. Clayton met yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in the city hall, and went over the figures as prepared by the Somers system, and heard complaints of property owners. William Young, the Somers system expert, was present to explain any feature that was not understood. The first question to be determined was the basis on which the property is to be assessed. The Somers system fixes the full value. It was decided to have an informal meeting with the city commissioners and the matter was discussed as to whether the basis should be 66 2-3 per cent of the full value and the tax rate remain at $1.75 on the $100 or whether the assessment should be on the basis of 75 per cent of the full value, and reduce the tax rate to $1.50. It was figured that on $1,000 full value, an assessment of 66 2-3 per cent would yield, at $1.75 per $100, $11.45, and that the same $1,000 full value, at 75 per cent of the full value, at $1.50 on the $100, would yield the city $11.25.

The agreement was then reached informally that the tax rate will not be above $1.50 per $100 and that the three-fourths valuation would stand as now showing on the books of the assessor. A large number of property owners attended the meeting during the day and discussed their values, but no changes were made. The records show increased values for the year 1913, because of the taxation of the franchises of public service corporations. One feature of the new system, which is shown by the assessment of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, indicates where much of the increase will come from. For instance, last year the M. & T. paid $1.75 per $100 on a valuation of $150,000, its taxes being in round figures $2,700. This year the Katy is on the tax rolls for $146,000, which included the franchise, and will pay $1.50 on the $100, making its taxes $4,190.

The fixing of the tax rate will have to be done in regular session of the commission. With the increase in tax receipts, a number of the departments will ask for more appropriations. For instance, the street department will want an increase to $42,000, as against $36,000 last year. Commissioner Littlefield will ask for $17,000, which will be an increase. Commissioner Dolins will ask for $5,000 more for the fire department than has heretofore been granted.

COTTON DISPUTE AT GALVESTON

District Judge Enjoins Maritime Exchange Making Negotiations on Bills of Lading.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 22.—District Judge Burns in the federal court today granted an injunction restraining the maritime branch of the Galveston Cotton exchange from making the condition of cotton sales on bills of lading. The order is temporary and is set for hearing Saturday. It prevents placing of words, "Not thoroughly covered," or similar phrases on bills of lading when sides of the bale are partly exposed. Cotton buyers say unless they show a clean bill of lading bankers on the other side of the Atlantic will not negotiate their paper, causing loss of time and money.

Shipping interests say that unless they note the condition of cotton they are forced to pay claims of spinners for damaged cotton, when it was damaged in the country, before reaching the ship. Houston cotton men are plaintiffs and Galveston cotton men defendants in this case.

Insurance Companies Are Enjoined From Paying

Fort Worth, Sept. 22.—Four insurance companies were enjoined by District Judge Marvin Brown at his home Sunday afternoon from paying over to any one sums of money from policies held on the Metropolitan Pharmacy, 905 Main street, burned early Friday morning accidentally by a "dope" fiend. The injunction alleges that T. H. Hamill, who bought the drug store from Walter L. Terrell July 14, possessed the stock and fixtures of the store under a mortgage in favor of Mrs. W. L. Terrell, W. L. Terrell and Roy L. Terrell; that Hamill had either left Fort Worth or is secreting himself within the city to avoid creditors, and that because of the lack of a "loss clause" in the insurance policies, the Terrells, styled "vendors," may lose the amount of the mortgage. Local representatives of the four insurance companies concerned, doubting

MRS. THAW ARRIVES

JOINS SON ON EVE OF HIS FIGHT AGAINST RETURN TO MADHOUSE.

New York Grand Jury Has Not Yet Brought Indictment—Hampshire Jerome.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 22.—On the eve of the proceedings which are expected to decide whether Harry K. Thaw shall be returned to the Matteawan asylum, he was joined here tonight by his mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, and by his brother, Joseph. "I have come to give Harry the support of his mother's presence in his fight to keep away from the mad house," said Mrs. Thaw. It was the second attempt of the fugitive's mother to meet him since his escape from Matteawan.

Tomorrow's proceedings are based on the request of the state of New York for the extradition of Thaw on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the escape from Matteawan.

The only point definitely settled tonight about the hearing before Governor Samuel D. Feltner was that it would be held in the senate chamber at the state house, beginning at 11 a. m.

After the extradition warrant had been read it will develop upon the representative of the state of New York, probably Wm. T. Jerome, to set forth his case. Mr. Jerome was not in town tonight and nothing could be learned as to his plans.

The repeated failure of the Dutchess county, New York, grand jury to return an indictment against Thaw has greatly handicapped Jerome, in the opinion of close followers of the case. Governor Feltner saw the fugitive today for the first time. At noon and again this evening their glances crossed as they looked about the hotel dining room. Each manifested interest in the other, but there was no introduction.

After consultation with his mother and brother, Thaw gave out a statement in which he denied a report that he was to become a citizen of Manchester.

"No one in Manchester wants me," he said. "What our friends in New Hampshire want is the defeat of this dishonest attempt to extradite me to New York. Every one knows that this charge is only a subterfuge, to be dropped as soon as I should reach New York. The grand jury in Dutchess county knows it is a fraud and already has refused to indict. The grand jury won't indict, the requisition is too flimsy and my mother and I hope at last to go home in peace."

Grand Jury Adjourns. Poughkeepsie, Sept. 22.—The Dutchess county grand jury that has been considering the conspiracy charge against Harry K. Thaw adjourned today for two weeks, without having found an indictment against him.

Only information District Attorney Conger would give out was that the grand jury had not reported on the Thaw case.

The matter was presented to the grand jury several days ago. Last Friday when a partial report was made on other indictments, it was persistently reported that a vote had been taken on the Thaw case and that there were not sufficient votes to indict.

The case of Howard H. Barnum, the gay attendant at Matteawan when Thaw escaped, was presented to the grand jury on the conspiracy charge at the same time as that of Thaw. No report has yet been made on his case, either.

M. K. & T. CHANGES

DALLAS REPORTS SAY WEBB AND ELLIOTT WILL BE PROMOTED.

Executive Offices Will Return to St. Louis—No Further Improvements Until Cases Settled.

Dallas, Sept. 22.—Local rumors of many changes in the management of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway were affixed this morning, but were not confirmed by the officers located here. The main text of the information, given from an accurate source, was that the executive offices would return to St. Louis, following the centralization idea of the present management. It was further said that W. A. Webb, present general manager, would be named vice president, while C. G. Elliott, vice president, would be named general manager, with his headquarters in Dallas. Mr. Webb was in Dallas today, but could not be interviewed. Pending the suit instituted by the state against the Katy road, all improvements on the line have been suspended and will probably remain so until the courts settle the matter.

TWIN BROTHERS USE BIRTHRIGHT TO HARASS STEWARDS OF STEAMSHIPS

DR. SIMON J. RUSSELL AND DR. EDWARD M. RUSSELL

The only system ever invented for outwitting the transatlantic steamship steward came as a birthright to Dr. Edward M. Russell and Dr. Simon J. Russell, twin brothers, who returned to America from a season of special study in Europe.

The brothers, who come from Springfield, Mass., look so much alike that only finger points are disimilar. To add to the gaiety of themselves and the nations, they dress alike, wear their hats alike and speak in exactly the same tone of voice.

Hence when they began their trip they began to harass the stewards in a variety of ways. This they decided to do in commemoration of their outward journey, when divers stewards had harassed them. Their full revenge came when to each steward who opened negotiations for a tip each brother replied with well simulated indignation that "he, the brother, had already paid him, the steward."

RACE TROUBLES IN ROBERTSON COUNTY

Bremont, Sept. 22.—Excitement continues high here today with considerable race feeling in evidence, following the killing of Deputy Sheriff Tom Rushing near here yesterday by a negro who was promptly lynched by a full one thousand irate citizens. Rushing was attempting to arrest Will Davis, negro, who had previously killed Luther Hodge, a white man, and wounded Tom Maxwell, also white, as the outcome of a game of cards. When Rushing called on Davis to surrender the officer was shot through the body fatally. The lynched negro calmly admitted his identity and was swung to a tree before officers could interfere.

Calvert, Tex., Sept. 22.—Jim McCall, son of a prominent white farmer and storekeeper residing near Calvert, seriously stabbed below the heart by a young negro, Talmus Jameson, on the carnival grounds Friday night, is resting easy and hopes of recovery are held. The negro escaped and is not yet apprehended.

Will Davis, a negro, was lynched at Pettus, near Calvert, Sunday, being burned at the stake. After the lynching excitement was high through Robertson county and during the day everything now is quiet. Will Davis killed Deputy Sheriff Tom Rushing and Luther Hodge, slightly wounding Tom Maxwell.

WOLFSOHN NOW DENIES I. W. W. SENDS GREETINGS TO ITS PRISON MEMBERS

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Delegates attending the meeting of Industrial Workers of the World in this city today telegraphed greetings and messages of comfort to a selected list of members now imprisoned.

Among those remembered were the McNamara brothers, the Los Angeles dynamite; Albert Ryan and Don Leary, now inmates of San Quentin prison in California.

Fifty-three delegates, including a number of women and also Joseph Etting, who achieved notoriety during the Lawrence, Mass., strike a year ago, present.

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—Repudiating his statements made to the police yesterday and today, Jacob Wolfsohn today denied that he was guilty of the murder of Anna Catharine Schumacher in the cemetery at Rochester, N. Y., four years ago. When closely questioned by District Attorney Barrett of Rochester, in the office of Captain of Detectives Cameron here this afternoon, Wolfsohn broke down and said he had confessed to the murder because he wanted to die and could not bring himself to commit suicide.

"I want to take back my confession. It is not true that I killed the girl and I can prove my innocence," he exclaimed hysterically. "You can cut my throat, hang me or do whatever you want to, but I do not want to die with the record of a murderer."

"My life has been an unhappy one," continued Wolfsohn. "I cannot return to Russia because I left there to escape military service; my wife divorced me here. I hope to end my troubles by being electrocuted."

District Attorney Barrett, before leaving tonight for Rochester, said he would make further investigations before determining whether he would ask for requisition for Wolfsohn. He said: "It has been proved that the prisoner worked near the cemetery, where the crime was committed, but his description of the clothing worn by the girl does not correspond with the facts. I am not yet satisfied that he is the murderer."

Close guard is being kept over the prisoner since his alleged attempt at suicide last night.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 22.—The Texas company received a wireless message this morning telling of the loss of the Herman Paepcke and her oil cargo, which went down fifteen miles north of Tampico while under tow of the Hornet. All members of her crew are said to have escaped. The Paepcke was a steel wheel river steamer, valued at $100,000, and was of 157 tons. Girls Will Tell of Relation With George H. Bixby

Los Angeles, Sept. 22.—Geo. H. Bixby, the Long Beach millionaire on trial here on charges of having contributed to the delinquency of two girls, will take the stand and make a sweeping denial of all accusations against him, his attorneys announced today.

Bixby's battle to shut off from the jury further testimony such as that given against him last week by Cleo Helen Barker, one of his girl accusers, was successful today. Presiding Judge Bledsoe ruled that while other girls might be permitted to go on the stand they must not testify as to details of their relations with Bixby at the Jonquil hotel once or twice a week.

With this understanding Marie Brown-Levy, complainant in another case pending against the millionaire, was called to testify in regard to what she knew of the relations between Bixby and the Barker girl.

Miss Brown-Levy testified she was 18 years old. She said Bixby, under the name of "Mr. King," had been introduced to her by Mrs. Goodman and that she had seen him at the Jonquil hotel once or twice a week.

A number of girls who formerly were inmates of the Jonquil also were called on the stand. Myrtle O'Dair, 23, identified Bixby as a man she had known as "Mr. King." She testified the girls at the resort and Mrs. Goodman always had spoken of him as "the black pearl" because of a gem he wore in his scarf pin.

No Intention to Interfere With Escapades of Men

Wichita, Kan., Sept. 22.—An interpretation of the Mann white slave act by Federal Judge John C. Pollock that seemed at variance with that of Federal Judge Van Fleet of San Francisco in the Maury Diggs and F. Drew Cammeltt trials, caused Lee Baker of Peabody, Kan., who was arraigned here today on a white slavery charge to change his plea from "guilty" to "not guilty."

Judge Pollock said the Mann act applied only to commercial features of the interstate transportation of women. Baker, through his attorney, had pleaded guilty, when the judge asked: "Do you base this plea on the interpretation of the law in the Diggs case?"

Baker's attorney replied that he did and said he had expected the same ruling in this case.

"Under the law as I construe it," the judge said, "the commercial feature must be proved. It was not the aim of congress to prevent the personal escapades of any man. If the government cannot prove this man took the girl to another state for a commercial purpose, I shall instruct the jury to acquit him. The jurisdiction of the government in cases of this kind is based on the commercial aspect."

Baker then pleaded not guilty and the case went to trial.

OVERRULE MOTION TO DROP IMPEACHMENT

SCHOOLS ARE SEIZED

MISSIONS WHERE ALBANIAN GIRLS ARE INSTRUCTED FORCIBLY POSSESSED.

British Consul Enters Protest—Is Part of Terrorist Scheme of Greeks.

Vienna, Austria, Sept. 22.—The Greek authorities at Koritsa, in Albania, today seized the American mission schools there, where instruction is given to nearly 100 Albanian girls. The information reached here in a telegram from Avlona, the principal seaport of Albania on the Adriatic sea.

The Greeks also have arrested many Albanians who recently returned to Koritsa from America and other foreign countries, releasing them from detention only when the Albanians promised to join in the agitation for the incorporation of the district in Greece.

The British consul at Monastir has entered a vigorous protest with the Greek government on behalf of the Americans.

The whole affair forms part of the Greek terrorization of the Albanian population, with the object of compelling them to agree with inclusion of the whole of Albania in the kingdom of Greece.

Last week Greek officials at Koritsa endeavored to take forcible possession of the American mission school building, but the housekeeper refused to hand over the keys. The Greek soldiers beat her mercilessly and carried her off to prison.

The mission is in charge of Phineas B. Kennedy, a native of New Jersey and a Princeton graduate. Mrs. Violet B. Kennedy conducts the ladies' literary society, whose object is to give the elements of education to the women of Albania.

Assured No Opposition. New York, Sept. 22.—The American mission school in Koritsa, Albania, is under supervision of the Congregational church and controlled by the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. Dr. Edward L. Smith, secretary for the organization in New York, said today that the American missionaries encountered great opposition from the Turkish authorities, but since the Balkan war ended, the board received assurances through the American department of state that the Greek government would put no further obstacles in the way of its work. C. T. Erickson, who was in charge at Koritsa, returned to this country a few days ago on leave and is in Boston. He and his wife were expelled from Albania by the Servians at the beginning of the war. Later they returned, only to be arrested by the Greeks and imprisoned at Saloniki. Phineas B. Kennedy and his wife are in charge of the school during Dr. Erickson's absence.

Is Diplomatic Matter. Washington, Sept. 22.—State department officials say today that the reported seizure of the American mission school at Koritsa, Albania, by Greeks would raise an important diplomatic question, as the status of American institutions in Albania has not been determined under the new territorial delimitations growing out of the war between the Balkan allies and Turkey and the later conflict among the allies themselves.

Under a convention with Turkey, made when that nation exercised suzerainty over Albania, Americans, in addition to their rights under treaties of commerce and travel, were given extra territorial rights which protected, among other things, educational institutions.

Wreck at Everett, Wash. More Than Dozen Injured, One Fatally. Freight Hits Wreck, But Escapes Damage.

Everett, Wash., Sept. 22.—More than a dozen passengers on a Great Northern Overland train were injured today, one fatally and two others seriously, near Mukles, south of Everett, through the breaking of an axle of the tender and ditching of the locomotive, tender and baggage car. Before a flagman could be sent back to post a warning signal, a westbound train came along at full speed on the other track and the wreckage of the locomotive and baggage car lay on the rails and the train crashed into it, but escaped serious damage.

All the injured passengers were brought to a hospital here, Rev. G. W. Grannis of Long Beach, Cal., is expected to die.

Cullen's Opinion. Judge Cullen's opinion in part, was: "It was urged by the learned counsel for the managers that the assembly has the inherent right to meet at any time and place, and that the provisions of the constitution are in violation of this right. From that doctrine I dissent in toto. It is true that it is the assembly that has the right given it by the constitution to impeach, but that assembly does not consist of the individual members of the body, but of the body as a whole assembled. That is plain, elementary parliamentary law. It is also the common law applying to all bodies. The individual action even if a majority does not constitute the action of the body whatever it may be, unless all parties have had an opportunity to attend and be heard. Any other rule, it seems to me, would cause or might cause, inextricable confusion in the management of public affairs. It would be a scene of disorder, and if so, before there had been any election of a

IN SECRET NIGHT SESSION HIGH COURT DECIDES FOR TRIAL.

IS ONE VOTE AGAINST

51 TO 1 FOR PROCEEDING. WENDE FOR EXECUTIVE.

THE COURT ROOM IS CLEARED

Judge Cullen Renders Opinion—Limitation Does Not Apply to Assembly Independently.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Governor Wm. Sulzer must go to trial. This was decided by the high court of impeachment tonight when, by a vote of 51 to 1, its members overruled the motion of the governor's counsel to dismiss the proceedings on the ground that he was unconstitutionally impeached by the assembly while that body was in extra session when the impeachment was brought.

Senator Gottfried H. Wendt, of Buffalo, democrat, an ardent supporter of the governor, cast the solitary nay, while seven members of the court were absent.

The governor's defeat was the second that has marked the battle waged by his attorneys to annihilate, as far as possible, the impeachment proceedings. Last week the court thwarted their attempt to prevent four senators from sitting as members. Their remaining ammunition consists of arguments to prove that certain of the offenses charged against the governor are not impeachable. These arguments will be heard tomorrow.

Tonight's vote was taken in secret session, after an afternoon devoted to speeches by the opposing attorneys. When the time came for the court to render its decision Presiding Judge Cullen announced that he did not feel inclined to use the power granted him under the rules to be the first to express an opinion.

"My brethren," he said, "you will readily appreciate that the point which has been discussed goes to the very foundation of this proceeding. If decided in one way the proceedings must necessarily stop. You have the power to clear the court for private consultation under the rules."

Clears Court. This was done on motion of Judge Collin (another judge), but the vote was later announced in a brief public session and the record of the proceedings was immediately made public. It showed that a tentative roll call on the motion was immediately taken and that the presiding judge delivered a long opinion on the points at issue, which name was called three times on the list.

Judge Cullen's opinion in substance was that the provision of constitution which limited the acts of the legislature in extra session to such subjects as were recommended to it by the governor should be given a reasonable construction. It upheld the contention of the prosecution that the provision referred to the legislature as a whole and not to the assembly as an independent body.

"These subjects all relate to what the legislature as a body can do and not to the power vested in one branch of the legislature."

The tentative roll call brought from Senator Wendt the only negative vote. The call was followed by a viva voce vote and then on a final roll call with the same result. Wendt explained his vote in a brief argument in which he said that he believed the assembly should be given the right to impeach, since die some weeks before reconvening to bring the impeachment articles. "They foreclosed their right to act upon any question of impeachment when called together in extraordinary session."

Cullen's Opinion. Judge Cullen's opinion in part, was: "It was urged by the learned counsel for the managers that the assembly has the inherent right to meet at any time and place, and that the provisions of the constitution are in violation of this right. A MARKETABLE TITLE

Is one that will enable the purchaser to hold his land free from probable claim by another, and one that, if he wishes to sell, would be reasonably free from any doubt which would interfere with its market value.

MERRIAM TESTIFIES

ARMY OFFICER TELLS OF CONDUCT OF WIFE DURING HIS ABSENCE.

Says She Attempted to Kill Herself and Child—Seeks a Divorce.

San Francisco, Sept. 22.—"She attempted to poison herself many times and gave poison to our child. There is army medical testimony to support that," declared Captain Henry C. Merriam, U. S. A., today, testifying in the divorce suit against his wife, Captain Merriam already had testified that his wife twice tried to shoot him with his own revolver. A letter addressed to Captain Merriam and signed by Lieutenant Halliday, post surgeon at Jackson barracks, New Orleans, was introduced today by Merriam's counsel. It told of widespread gossip among officers at the post as to the conduct of Mrs. Merriam during her husband's absence on the Mexican border.

The letter and the captain's testimony concerning it were admitted in evidence, subject to a motion to strike them out later, if found to be not material. Captain Merriam declared that the women of Jackson barracks refused to visit his quarters at the post. He noted this on his return from the border, he said, Major Kephart, post commander, told him of having ordered Mrs. Merriam off the reservation because of her conduct, but her husband said his confidence was unshaken and he yielded to her pleading and continued to show a friendliness toward Major Clarence Murphy of the staff of the governor of Louisiana. Later, Captain Merriam said, he went to Washington, where he learned other facts, and his break with Murphy followed.

"I think that when it was said that the governor shall submit business for consideration to the legislature, it was the governor's business that was meant and not that of the legislature; not of the senate. But it gave the assembly the right to impeach."

"I therefore am of the opinion that this right does not come within the limitations of the constitution. We must give a reasonable construction of it, and, so construed these subjects all relate to what the legislature as a body can do and not to the power vested in one branch of the legislature. I vote no."

The secret session of the court lasted nearly an hour. During the meeting newspaper men and even the attorneys for the opposing sides were excluded.

MAKES A PURE FOOD TOUR

Johnson Works in Conjunction With Women's Civic League in Panhandle.

Austin, Tex., Sept. 22.—Thos. Johnson, inspector of the pure food and drug commission, has returned from the Panhandle region, where he has been working in conjunction with the Women's Civic League in enforcing the state pure food laws. There has been no trouble in the sections around Amarillo in getting dairymen, meat markets and other concerns in cleaning out their places of business, and during the six weeks that Mr. Johnson was in this section it was not found necessary to press any prosecutions.

The formation of the Women's Civic leagues throughout that entire section and other sections have proven of material benefit to the department. In many cases the women have taken the matters in hand and only a casual inspection from time to time has been necessary to convince the department of the great amount of good that these leagues can do in enforcing the regulations as to clean shops, meats, milks, etc.

Puccini Barely Escapes.

Pisa, Italy, Sept. 22.—Giacomo Puccini, the composer, had a narrow escape from drowning today on Lake Massaciucoli, on the shore of which he has a villa. While steering his motorboat he collided with another boat containing the members of his family. Both boats were badly damaged and began to fill rapidly. Other boats rushed to their assistance and Puccini and his family were taken aboard.

VIOLATE EIGHT HOUR LAW

State Factory Inspector Finds Public Work Done Contrary to State Law.

Austin, Sept. 22.—A. L. Garrett, state factory inspector, returned today from a month's trip of inspection through eastern Texas, visiting Houston, Beaumont, Orange, Palestine, and other points in behalf of the labor department. The condition in the factories inspected was not the very best, according to Mr. Garrett.

There were few violations of the child labor law, but many infringements on the eight-hour law were discovered and it is likely that prosecutions will be forced in some instances. At Beaumont, on the city and county buildings, at Palestine on the new Anderson county court house and other localities these violations were discovered and placed in the hands of the prosecuting attorneys to be held in abeyance pending the good behavior of the sub-contractors in operating within the eight-hour law.

Another question that has come before the department and which will be submitted to the railroad commission for hearing is whether logging cars on chartered roads of the state come within the safety appliance law. No date has been set for the hearing.

WATER ENGINEERS LOCATE.

Renovate and Refurnish Quarters in Capitol.

Austin, Sept. 22.—The state board of water engineers have completed the renovation and refurnishing of their quarters on the third floor of the east wing of the capitol and have moved into them. The board, a new department of the state government, is rapidly getting the details of the organization worked out and will soon be able to enforce the provisions of the law. The preliminary work is already well under way for action in several localities.

Finds Hefty Grip in Alley.

Night Watchman W. T. Curry, making his rounds last night, at 10:30 o'clock stumbled upon a huge leather satchel, which had been left in a dark spot in "Bankers' alley," as the alley between Austin and Franklin streets, below Fourth street, is known. Dragging his find out to the light, the watchman discovered that it had no marks by which the owner might be identified. The satchel is heavily packed, the weight of it being so great that Curry carried it with difficulty, and he is convinced that a large quantity of some sort of metal is stowed away in its capacious depths. Mr. Curry will keep the bag unopened today, awaiting a claimant, and if none appears he will investigate its contents tonight. It is believed the satchel was stolen from some traveler and hastily dropped by a thief at the approach of an officer.

KNOWS THE MURDERER

RINGS SHERIFF BRANDENBURG OF DALLAS ABOUT FLORENCE BROWN MYSTERY.

Little Credence Given Story—Will Tell Story Before Grand Jury.

Waxahachie, Tex., Sept. 22.—Sheriff Brandenburg of Dallas was here late yesterday afternoon and took back to Dallas with him a young man working in this city who claimed he knew who killed Florence Brown. According to information obtained from Mr. Brandenburg, this man called him up over the telephone about 12 o'clock Saturday night and volunteered the statement that he could tell who the murderer was. It is supposed he will go before the grand jury today.

Dallas, Sept. 22.—Sheriff Brandenburg stated today that not much credence is given the statement of the young man brought here from Waxahachie that he knew who killed Florence Brown, but added the man would be given a chance to testify before the grand jury.

BRING YOUR MEASURESR. T. DENNIS & CO.*Fear Foreign Countries Will Raise Tariff Rates

Washington, Sept. 22.—Apprehensive lest the democratic tariff bill lead foreign nations to impose tariff penalties against the United States as soon as the new law goes into effect caused administration and senate leaders today to plan the introduction of a joint resolution in congress making specific provisions for the continuation of existing relations with all countries until President Wilson has time to negotiate new treaty agreements. The seriousness of the situation that will confront the administration was impressed on Chairman Simmons of the senate committee today by state department officials. It was pointed out that the trade relations established by President Taft's proclamation under the Payne-Aldrich law of 1909 would terminate as soon as the new law becomes effective and that the United States would then face the possibility of having higher tariff rates applied against its ports by many countries. While the tariff law would give the president authority to negotiate trade and reciprocity treaties, it would also require him to apply special penalty rates against any countries discriminating against the United States.

drafting a joint resolution which will provide that existing relations shall continue for four months. This will not keep in effect the tariff rates of the Payne-Aldrich law, but will assure to foreign countries that the new penalty provision of the Underwood-Simmons bill will not be applied to them until a reasonable time has been allowed the president and the state department to negotiate new trade treaties. Practically all nations having any foreign commerce will be asked to enter such facts.

Separate Act.
At the white house and later at the state department today Senator Simmons pointed out to administration officials that it would be impossible to insert the provisions desired as an amendment to the tariff bill because the introduction of any new matter is precluded while the bill is in conference. The provision will be put through congress as a separate act, supplementary to the tariff law.

Senate amendments to the tariff bill would authorize the president to assess extra duties on coffee, tea, fish, china-ware, silks, laces, jewelry, sugar and many other items coming from countries not treating the United States as a "favored nation." While the joint resolution could not prevent other countries from imposing higher tariffs against the United States, it is expected that it will induce them to withhold such action temporarily at least. The senate conferees on the tariff bill late today won their fight for the heavier tax on big incomes when the house members of the conference committee agreed to accept the senate amendments increasing the tax rate to a maximum of 7 per cent on incomes of more than $200,000.

The amount of income that is to be free from tax, fixed at $4,000 by the house and $3,000 by the senate, the exemptions to be allowed on account of families, and the provisions to be applied to mutual insurance companies are still at issue.

The deductions that are to be allowed from ordinary incomes in arriving at the "net income" that is to bear the tax, were accepted practically as determined upon in the senate.

Throughout the conference committee's work on the income tax publications it has been assisted by Representative Hull of Tennessee, who drafted the original provisions of the law, but who is not a member of the conference committee.

It was THE shoe for comfort in style centers last fall. It was a leader in the handsome summer Oxford, and here it is again with all the little refinement that comes from the ingenuity of the skilled mechanics and engineers who conceived the original "Selz Waukenphast."

This should be a pleasant thought for you that you are able to enjoy this refinement, comfort and quality the same as Eastern style centers, and at a price no greater than you would pay for the ordinary kind.

NOVEMBER THE ELEVENTH WRIGHT-CONWAY WEDDING
The announcement has been made with the date left open for the marriage of B. Fiske Wright of the East Side, to Miss Ray Conway of Bryan. Details are now developing for the ceremony which takes place on the eleventh of November in Bryan. There will be a church service with numerous attendants, followed by a home reception. Mr. Wright will be accompanied from here by quite a number of relatives and friends.

VISITING WOMEN TO COME FOR FEDERATION FRIDAY

Among the special participants for the Federation of Missionary Societies will be Mrs. May Wright from Fort Worth and Miss Mabel Stafford from Austin. Mrs. Wright has the practical experience which the Waco women need just now—that of work as station matron. Miss Stafford is state secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association under whose supervision this movement to protect young women who travel is launched. This presence will be quite an inspiration to the federation whose effort is to place a matron in the Waco station.

MISS KATHERINE HEMPHILL TO BE OCTOBER BRIDE

Friends in the city, and more without, have received invitations to the marriage of Miss Annie Katherine Hemphill to Harper C. Kilpatrick. This event is set for the first of October, and will be an evening ceremony in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hemphill, on Clay street. Mr. Kilpatrick, while a resident of this city now, is more closely identified with his earlier home, China Springs. Mr. and Mrs. Hemphill are comparatively new residents of this city, having come from Tyler, where this happy event is a matter of widespread interest. Following the marriage, Mr. Kilpatrick will take his bride for a short wedding journey after which they will remain permanently in the Hemphill household, 418 Clay street.

A SUGGESTION IS MADE FOR THE EUTERPEAN CLUB

Now that the Euterpean club is enlarging its sphere, this community will come to look to it for the promotion for all things which advance the musical life of our city. It is timely now to suggest that the members of this club take up the movement of prompt attendance at all musical programs. This is being done by the musical clubs all over the country, and it means a great deal. By their works we shall know them we hear every day. As we understand it, the Euterpeans will this season have an active membership of approximately fifty. In addition, there will be an associate membership of more than two hundred. Are not these sufficient to establish any custom upon which they will act as a unit? We refer to the prompt arrivals wherever a musical program is to be presented. Musicians themselves know only too well how difficult it is to find one who is satisfied to open a program. This is because late arrivals and the consequent confusion places the performer at great disadvantage; many times the number is lost completely. Could not this be obviated should the practice of prompt attendance prevail? We think it could.

If the cat may look at the king, that is, the non-musical suggest to the musician, why not the musician begin to educate the habit of prompt attendance? This could be begun by the members themselves pleading. Also, cards could be mailed before each musical entertainment reminding the associate members that co-operation is expected. The Utopia is never reached where the general public is concerned. But improvement can be made, and the goal of the ideal held ever before. We are under the limelight of criticism of those who know. The professional musicians speak freely of certain audiences. They have that sympathetic nature which feels the confusion, or the rapid change, very quickly. And, as the old colored minister expressed it, "they are not backward about coming forward" in their criticism. They leave Waco to tell Dallas how we behaved; they leave Dallas to tell Fort Worth how we behaved; and so on, all down to Houston, in order to convey the impression that she is an extensive traveler. Again, a woman may have an arriving guest. If that guest has been a former visitor in pils in such etiquette? Let us do this, one and all.

FURNISHING THE NEWS FOR SOCIETY DEPARTMENT

We, some of us, have not arrived at the proper conception of what our daily society budget should mean. The more retiring natures can see nothing but "rushing into print," and from this they shrink before those who are too prone to push their personality into publicity. There is the happy medium. The purpose and the value of the society women's budget should be understood. The woman who thinks only to have her name flaunted before the public is nauseating. She deserves the complimentary things said of her. On the other hand, the woman who furnishes the news when such is news, is really a social benefactor. Naturally, then, her name will appear oftener, and yet with none of the ego in what she furnishes. Let us take an example of correct news. If a woman goes to Houston, it is eminently proper that she should let her friends know she is out of the city. She may save them useless telephone calls; she may enable them to promote work through others when they were depending upon her; she can be of real service by letting it be known that she is absent from home. But, it is not necessary for her to announce that her train stops at Harrison Switch, and Perry and Riesel, and so on, all down to Houston, in order to convey the impression that she is an extensive traveler. Again, a woman may have an arriving guest. If that guest has been a former visitor in Reporting One's Parties.

Then comes into print the account of one's entertainment. Many seek new life in a city because of its social atmosphere. Wives and daughters desire to live among cultured and refined life. Is there any way in which this life can be established more than through giving it publicity? If Waco the advanced idea of social life, they should be pleased to let this be known. On the trains, in the hotel lobbies, in countless places, the Morning News is read. Impressions are formed from the written page. Therefore, women owe it to the social life of their home town to do all possible in promoting this. Again, comes discretion. The dignified woman who understands the relation of her entertainment to the press will be pleased to furnish those details which enable a clear, vivid, and pleasing description of what transpired. The woman who "rushes into print" will expect every little detail to be mentioned, and the application of innumerable adjectives which glorify her and all which pertain to her. This should not be. The purpose of a woman's department is two-fold; to give the news, and to elevate the tone of social life. It is not elevating to descend from simple dignity, and pure descriptive English. But, this news should be complete just as it is in any other department of the paper. It is the duty of the women who mingle in social life, to have this reflected in their home press.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Lustre and Abundance.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, waxy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.
Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears after another application or two its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

the city; if she has married and needs to be introduced by her former name in order that her friends may recognize it, it is quite the correct thing to report a detailed account of her presence. If she has never been in the city, it is only necessary to let it be known that a guest is in the home of Mrs. Blank. This is again a convenience, for if invitations are to go to the home of Mrs. Blank, the guest may be promptly included and thus feel that she has been recognized for herself. But, if Mrs. Blank has not let this be known, the invitation arrives for her alone. She then has to telephone and ask for an invitation for her guest, which makes the guest attend the function only through the suzerainty of being in the home of one invited. These are instances which might be multiplied into infinity.

Then comes into print the account of one's entertainment. Many seek new life in a city because of its social atmosphere. Wives and daughters desire to live among cultured and refined life. Is there any way in which this life can be established more than through giving it publicity? If Waco the advanced idea of social life, they should be pleased to let this be known. Convenience to Women.

The last phase in the policy of the Morning News with its women's department is to be a social directory for women. The daily budget enables the societies, religious, literary and otherwise, to insert notices, make their announcements, and in many other ways to promote the convenience and intelligent activity of women's organizations. The caution here is promptness and accuracy. These notices pertain only to home women; and yet, if all are given, the aggregate will inform outsiders as to the scope of Waco women's work.

Let us understand what the women's department means and let us endeavor to promote its best interest, all of us, every woman in Waco.

Society Notes.

Miss Dixie Wood is with Mrs. J. W. Gooch for a few days until she locates more permanently with Mrs. E. Boggs, Eighteenth and Barnard.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason, who have summered in the George Zizina cottage on Washington street, will be in the Chester Story cottage on Columbus for the winter.

Just think of it! A large card party on the eighth of October, and a large reception on the fifteenth! Can we stand all this excitement so early in the season? We rather think we can. After we have entertained at a club or semi-public place, it is not beneath our dignity at all to express quietly to the chef our pleasure at his attentions and service. It is true he is paid for this, but the word of appreciation is never unadvised.

Today Mrs. E. A. Temple is leaving Virginia, where she and Bishop Temple have spent the summer, for Boston. She does not return to Texas until after the Episcopal convocation in New York City.

Mrs. J. B. Cornish was in the household of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macpherson during her sojourn in Denver. She brings the pleasing news that Miss Anna Wise has married exceedingly well, not only a man of mature years and character, but one whose personality makes him unusually popular. The wedding was hastened two months in order that the bride might accompany a two months' trip to the east. Permanent residence, however, will be in Denver.

Among early arrivals for the winter has been that of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Penick, who had been absent several months.

So we are to drop the tango for the "hitchy"? Is it not time to apply John Gay's lines, "How happy could I be with either were 'tother dear charmer away?"

Mrs. R. J. Alexander, as president of the Review club, is making ready for the opening of the club year. She will have a call meeting within the next few days as preliminary to the regular work.

Waco must fall into line; she already.

THE TEXAS SPIRIT AND THE UNIVERSITY.

Out of the mass and mess of criticism and counter-criticism concerning our governor's treatment of university maintenance and improvement finances in the appropriation bill; out of the piffing situation exposed to the State by his declaration that he could justify to the State his collection of votes in that measure, the justification to be either through the press or on the public platform, contrasted with his nonappearance before the university regents, Saturday, though he had been requested to advise the regents as to university conduct in view of the financial status—out of all this at the last there comes gratifying information to all Texans that "the University of Texas will go forward unimpeded and with full efficiency," according to members of the regency after its special meeting.

This conclusion is worth much, regardless of the fact that the public is left in doubt, we judge from the report from Austin, as to the determination of the financial troubles of that institution that will make such unhampered, efficient progress possible. It appears this big question will not be decided for a month or so. Meanwhile we learn the university has achieved a business manager—Mr. L. P. Lockridge, of Austin, who is really a man of business—and has added some forty names to the faculty roll through Dr. Mezer's vacation appointments; from the regents' chairman, Mr. Ousley, we learn that the decision that there will be no diminution of efficiency either under the first year's appropriation or under the appropriationless second year to come, can be effected "with the funds that the regents will be able to provide." To the outsider, that statement must appear cryptic; but the average citizen must have confidence in a board of such a personnel and be glad of the statement. It looks like business, business management and money raising for the State University's progress, after all.

No sensible person in Texas has prophesied ruin for any institution or department of the State government by reason of the governor's blotting of the general appropriation bill—which the "justification" attempted by the governor in lengthy communications to certain newspapers that appeared Sunday justifies by no means. Hardship was generally prophesied, and there will be much hardship for many institutions whose managements are less resourceful than the university regency, apparently. There has been no condonation of the executive behavior resulting in that hardship merely because the institutions have been depreciating in worth for many years by reason of that hardship of legislative and executive niggardiness and narrowness of view; that is, because with the institutions, in some respects, hardship has been the accustomed condition. Ruin is not the Texas way and has no place in the Texas spirit, as the announcement of the regents Saturday testify. The institutions and departments will survive, certainly; they will perform their functions hampered in large degree, certainly; but they will go on until they are blessed with executive and legislative dealing from Austin that is coincidentally and coordinately generous, informed and patriotic. Until there shall be a governor and a legislature that make generosity mutual—not a State government that may be likened to Dickens's character who could not have his garments all new at the same time. In this last performance at Austin, the legislature's treatment was generous and the governor's was liberal—a reversal of the conditions that obtained in an occasional session theretofore.

Meanwhile the governor presents the remarkable argument in "reason" for his still more remarkable votes that inasmuch as he had allowed the institutions more money than his predecessors he was justified in refusing them as much money as they needed; that inasmuch as he has been more generous than other governors of Texas, he need not meet the legislature's generosity that was based on actual knowledge of the conditions and lacks of our institutions! And for this statesmanly attitude the press of Texas may not criticize His Excellency!

LAW NOTES' LAMAR LAMENT.

Law Notes, a leader among law journals, discusses in its current issue the indictment of David Lamar on the charge of personating an officer of the United States. Law Notes concludes that Lamar's admission that he personated members of congress does not make him guilty of violating a penal statute, because a member of congress is not an officer of the United States within the meaning of the statute. Law Notes declares that a member of congress is an officer of the State from which he is sent, because under the federal law the States have full control over the election of senators and representatives, although congress may alter the regulations.

Law Notes's objection primarily is striking; it presents a plain fact of law and a legal conclusion that must appeal to a layman. But its terminus of half a dozen words is the obstruction in the loophole it would indicate for Lamar, we think: "Although congress may alter the regulations." It is impossible to imagine federal control of a distinctly "State officer." At any rate, there are members of congress who want no loophole left for Lamar, we are sure. All the circumstances of Lamar's indictment considered, Law Notes's discussion somehow recalls the much-used postprandial witticism of the conversation of the Irishman in jail with his lawyer.

SLAVERY IS FOUND IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Sunday's news columns contained the malodorous report that Mr. Garrison, secretary of war, has received from Mr. W. H. Phipps, auditor for our provisional government in the Philippines, a statement substantially corroborating the charges in the recent report of Commissioner Dean Worcester that slave traffic is virulent, violent and vicious in the islands. Knowledge of Prof. Worcester's ability is general to government circles, the press and the great mass of its reading public. So none expected it would be found the commissioner's report was sensational or in any way other than well founded; it needed but the further government information carried by Auditor Phipps's investigation report to bring this shocking situation squarely and finally before the world.

There may be no belittling the seriousness of these two government disclosures, either in point of our administration's responsibility in the Philippine situation for such a condition or its crying duty to provide means for an immediate stamping out the traffic in young humans, male and female. The appearance of these reports reminds that in the year past there has been relatively little public discussion, in print or in lectures, of developments in our Philippine rule, general conditions among the peoples outside the cities of their advance in civilization toward the autonomy recommended by not a few of our public men, notably Mr. Bryan. We have been indebted to such strong workers for the island peoples' uplift as Dr. Brent, Episcopal missionary bishop to the islands, for the greater part of this information, save for the stereotyped government reports. Commissioner Worcester's revelations, and now Auditor Phipps's, flash a new light and a more powerful on the utter need of the islands for much more compulsion of living in the humane ways of civilization than any that has been played since Mr. Taft's administration was well advanced.

It will be recalled that when Commissioner Worcester's report appeared, we discussed the position of certain strong non-Democratic newspapers that his charges of the existence of chattel slavery in the islands would be promptly made the text of anti-imperialist preaching. That prophecy has been fulfilled, and will be amplified to the limit now that Mr. Phipps substantiates the findings of Prof. Worcester. We were told, especially by Boston Transcript; that if American rule were not a failure the thirteenth amendment of the federal constitution would enforce itself in the Philippines and put an end to that "peculiar domestic institution." It, and we, are not informed how slavery in the Philippines is to be extinguished without appropriate legislation; "the Philippine commission proposed that the Philippine assembly, which is a body of local law-makers and corresponds to the popular branch of an American State legislature, should pass a bill penalizing the slave trade. The assembly refused and tabled the bill submitted by the commission. Briefly, when the commission asked that it be armed with the requisite authority to deal with the slave traders summarily, the assembly, several of whose members hold bondsmen, covered slave traders from prosecution."

If slave trading and holding in the Philippines obtain to a degree that members of the local government not only protect but indulge in the horrid practice, it is with the American government to act with force if it cannot abolish the practice with legislation. The Worcester and Phipps communications cry out that this is no time to fret over and discuss such conclusions as that "the collision between the Philippine commission, which desires to stamp out slavery, and the assembly, which desires to maintain it, is luminous of the difficulty attendant on every effort to procure the adoption of Occidental ideas by peoples essentially Oriental." That is obvious. It is equally obvious that our government has progressed with the Philippines remarkably less than has been generally believed in the United States, since this shocking condition, a survival of the days of Spanish depression and oppression, is extant.

Whether our party, now in power in politics and in government, shall adhere to its pronouncement that the islands should be made independent, is in no wise the question of the hour with respect to these slavery reports. True, if independence still is the Democratic prescription we must agree with the demand that "it is all the more incumbent on the Democrats to make root and branch work of slavery before American rule is ended." But we may go further, and say now that there must be root and branch work of slavery at once, whether the islands are to remain a dependency or become independent of our control. There has appeared a sickly defect in that control.

Texas Viewpoints.

Col. Rountree Calls.
Col. Lee J. Rountree, who is editor of the Georgetown Commercial, executive committeeman of the National Editorial Association, Texas Press' delegate to the convention of that association in Chicago next month, an "old timer" in the state's journalism, politics, government and respectable public affairs, one of the handsomest of the T. P.'s many handsome editorial writers and for all these reasons as well as for his bright personality entitled to any comfortable chair he may find in Viewpoints' isolation, shared that isolation for a space yesterday and added to the sunshine and fresh breeze another good reason for Viewpoints to ignore the typewriter (machine). Col. Rountree spends much if not most of his time doing things for Texas newspapers, their workers and for Texas. At present, as has been made known in these columns, Col. Rountree has in his charge a plan that if fulfilled will bull Texas' publicity market. It is no less than an endeavor to have the National Editorial Association meeting in Chicago vote Texas the 1914 meeting—for Houston, probably in May. The association is made up of representatives of all press associations of all the states. Its reception in Texas would mean the appearance of hundreds of columns of newspaper matter—narrative, descriptive, appreciative, statistical; the very best sort of regional publicity because it is without the compulsion of price and is spontaneous—celebrating Texas, its cities and its press and its people. For Col. Rountree plans for the nation's editors in Texas a tour of the larger cities and a view of much of the wondrous area. Texas Press, knowing his ability and persuasiveness, has expectations that Col. Rountree will succeed in this plan that are almost as keen as its hopes.

A Plea for Renewed Dryness.

According to the report of H. H. Flynn, collector of cotton statistics, Waco, there were 2,125 bales of cotton, counting cotton bales as half bales, ginned in McLennan county from the crop of 1913, prior to Sept. 1, against 18,239 last year, an increase of 9,620 bales. If wet weather continues, September record will fall short of last year.—Mart Herald.

Extra!
Garland News feels highly complimented and, wanting its fellows to share the sensation, tells them about it for that a woman reader said recently the ads and the editorials were the first and frequently the only parts of the paper she read. "We can understand her partiality for the ads," adds the News, "because aside from the literary merit they contain money-saving news for the buyer of the daily family provender, but we've been scratching our head ten days wondering why she reads the editorials. But we thank her just the same. Maybe she reads them in the hope of eventually finding a bright one." Maybe; but if the News's editor feels that way about it, why not render consistent his introduction and his conclusion? If the woman is merely curious—is merely having a quiet little game of chance, as it were, with the ed. columns of the News—wherein the feeling of compliment? Unless—and with reason—our brother is pleased that any woman reads any editorial of his at any time. If that is his view of the situation, he is merely aiding in prolonging a mistaken estimate. Women do read newspaper editorials, these days. We know that to our usual joy and occasional discomfort.

Correctly Suspected.

"Every few days we notice dispatches in the daily press stating pool halls have been voted out of certain towns and localities." Thorndale Thorn punctures. "Why this fight on pool halls? Is there any more harm in a social game of pool than in a social game of dominoes or 42? We suspect that it is because the laws governing these places are so flagrantly violated—the boisterousness, the profane and vulgar language used, allowing minors to visit the halls and maybe there is some betting on the side." The Thorn goes to the heart of the more common objection and the only reasonable objection to public pool and billiard halls. Especially is there warrant enough for complaint with respect to the presence of minors, in many instances; and their presence and the toleration of gambling on the premises are largely connected in this complaint. And it may be noted that such a complaint is by no means confined to the clergy and to organizations for the young's welfare. Sober and respectable citizens, who like a game of pool or billiards occasionally and by reason of local circumstances must play in the public halls, resent as much as do any the presence of boys in these places. Not only is this a violation of the statute, and as such degrading of the character of the place, but the sort of minor found in pool halls has an average of noisy, profane and frequently obscene habits. The sober and respectable citizens referred to find no pleasure in playing pool surrounded by such company. The sooner pool hall proprietors eject the objectionable and obey the law by doing so, the sooner there will be an end to this adverse agitation which, in some respects, approaches very near the absurd.

IS DANGER OF MEAT FAMINE SHOULD RAISE SOME CATTLE

MEAT PACKERS SAY SOLUTION IS IN HANDS OF SMALL FARMER.

SHOULD RAISE SOME CATTLE

Suggests Corn as Substitute for Cotton in South—Legislation Criticized.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—The responsibility of averting a future meat famine was put up to small farmers by speakers at the eighth annual convention of the American Meat Packers association today. All the speakers agreed that if the decrease in meat production of the last ten years is not stopped, the question of the meat supply for the people of the United States will be most serious.

Among the remedies suggested by the speakers was that of raising cattle. Every small farmer should raise at least two beef steers a year to offset the decreased production of the great ranches of the west.

The remaining ranges should be cut up into small farms on an equal footing. Development of the hills of New England with their beautiful springs and prevailing shade as a beef producing country.

Substitution of corn for cotton in the Southern states and the consequent development of the cattle and hog production.

The report of the executive committee sounded the first note of the danger of a famine.

The American meat packing house situation and that of consumers of meat food products in this country are in a condition more precarious than at any time in our history, the report stated.

"We are facing a condition in the production of meat food products which would have been thought impossible ten years ago.

"The shortage of livestock which has been impressed upon us as packing house producers, for several years, has been intensified during the last year. Our population is growing at its normal rate, demand has overtaken production and we are now on a basis which shows that demand exceeds the supply to such an extent that we have abnormally high prices for meat food products.

Among other causes for the shortage of meat, the report pointed out another loss of meat—food animals through preventable diseases and the untimely slaughter of calves and especially heifer calves."

The committee appointed to confer with government officials regarding pure food laws in its report challenged the wisdom of the federal government dictating what ingredients shall be used in meat products.

"Our principal difficulty has been that those who power practically nothing of the actual conditions of packing house operations. We have been in the hands of capable, well-meaning scientists on one hand and political office holders on the other."

The report declared that the action of the government in changing the character of labels on canned goods after once they had been accepted by the government cost the packing industry $250,000 annually.

"This conference should advocate national legislation on the subject of storage," said J. L. Homigman of New York, in an address. "If every state has its own laws, with regard to the length of time we may keep eggs and produce we will soon have a condition like those caused by the present divorce laws."

HISTORIC PEASANT GIRL

Joan of Arc is Center of an Array of Magnificence.

Ringling Brothers are this season offering a spectacular production wherein the historic peasant girl, Joan of Arc, is the center of the most elaborate array of pantomimic magnificence ever offered. Planning a circus spectacle such as that which will be seen in Waco next Wednesday is a tremendous task. It is the making of thousands of people for the show grounds have not the limitations of the theatre stage, and, for the purpose of roofing this wonderful feature, Ringling Brothers have had made a specially constructed tent almost a block long, the largest stretch of canvas ever traveled.

The spectacle of Joan of Arc which will be seen here was planned and staged under the personal supervision of the Ringlings while a dozen agents and artists sought through Europe for the correct designs in costumes and trappings and for the armor and all the accoutrements of the period of Charles the Seventh that the great picture might be produced with historic accuracy. When this task was completed a great building was rented in Chicago and here a cast of more than 1200 people went to work to weave themselves into the pantomime of tapestry that was to be a wordless play with music, song, gesture and great ensemble groups to tell the story. Three stage managers assisted in carrying out the details of the plans drawn by the producers. Then came Ottokar Bartik, of the Metropolitan Opera House. He was given charge of a ballet of 500 girls who were to dance before the throne of Charles, while the whole kingdom rejoiced at the victory of Joan.

The pageant and the great coronation march were rehearsed for three weeks. Think of a rehearsal where the general stage director sends word for four hundred horses and the beautiful animals in all their rich trappings wait in on a given cue! Then came the painting of the scenery, the drops and the mammoth curtain and finally the opening of the circus at the Coliseum in Chicago, where the production was declared to be the most gorgeous achievement in pageantry ever presented in a circus.

The Joan of Arc spectacle is to be seen in its entirety in Waco next Wednesday afternoon and night. Following it will come a vast arena performance enlisting more than 375 men, women and children. Most of these are foreigners making their first visit to America. A big troupe of native Balkan male and female riders are among the finest features. There will be 50 clowns, a corps of the world's most famous aerial artists and all the other thousand wonders which compose the Ringling circus.

Has Your Child Perfect Eyesight?

Highest Authority On the Eyes Say That Eighty-Five Per Cent of School Children Have Imperfect Vision.

Dr. W. B. Georgia Gives Some Timely Advice.

Have your children perfect eyesight? Can they see as well as they should see in order to accomplish the most in their school work? If not, listen, ninety-five per cent of the impressions that are registered on their brain (sensation of sight cells) come through the eyes, the brilliancy of their minds depends on the clearness of their vision, and again the reflex action of the sympathetic nerve system makes the condition of their stomachs the seat of their health.

A child's disposition, health, intellect, and even its heart's action depends upon the clearness and restful comfort of their eyes whether they wear glasses or not.

If a child complains of frequent headache, has vomiting spells, is listless, dull and with little ambition to study, you may know that the child has eye trouble—not necessarily a diseased eye but a defective one, an eye that needs glasses to overcome the errors of refraction.

Measles probably cause more children to suffer with eyestrain than from any other cause.

Corneal astigmatism of the eyes invariably follow the treatment of measles, but the constant use of glasses will overcome this defect if worn by the child while growing and developing.

We have known many cases of this kind when the child was enabled to discontinue the use of glasses after wearing same from twelve to eighteen months. But in order to accomplish these results the child must wear the right glasses, and the right place to get the right glasses is from—Dr. W. B. Georgia, at 324 Austin St., Waco, Texas.

Washington, Sept. 22.—In the throng of visitors at the executive offices today President Wilson found two friends of his boyhood days—the Misses Elidabeth M. and Ellen D. Heilamy of Wilmington, N. C. The two sisters, well advanced in age, were ushered into the outer offices just as the president began shaking hands with friends of congressmen.

"There he is now," said one of the sisters, "I knew I could tell him, but how old he has gotten. We used to call him Tommy. I am afraid I'll call him that yet."

"The first time I ever saw him," said Miss Ellen, "he was riding a bicycle."

"It was the first time I ever saw a bicycle," rejoined her sister.

The two sisters told one of the secretaries how their brother, as family physician of the Wilsons, was summoned to attend the mother of the future president.

"Tommy came over," said Miss Ellen "to get me to stay up with his mother. He stayed around and was a very helpful boy. I said at the time that Tommy would make a fine husband for somebody some day."

Just then the president came along, the women introduced themselves and President Wilson said he remembered them quite well. He expressed his regret that Mrs. Wilson and the members of his family were not at home to greet them.

These examinations consist of written tests in Latin, English, Greek, arithmetic, algebra, and geometry. The examinations are open to all young men of Texas below the age of 21. The winner of the scholarship will receive an appointment to Oxford university good for three years and a payment of money amounting to $1200 for each year.

Homers Bruce of Denton, who won the scholarship in the examination given last fall, will leave Texas for England, October 1 to begin his studies at Oxford. Mr. Bruce graduated from the University of Texas in June.

In their directions to candidates the English examiners suggest that every candidate will need for the examination room a pair of compasses, protractor, a ruler graduated in centimetres and millimetres and in inches and tenths of an inch, and either parallel rulers or a pair of set squares. The candidates' answers to given papers should be written in a book. Answers written in pencil will be ignored. Candidates, especially those using fountain pens, are warned that they will not receive credit for illegible answers. Inquiries for information concerning the Rhodes scholarship examinations should be addressed to Dr. W. J. Battle, University of Texas, Austin.

STARTS RACE RIOT

AMERICAN AND POLISH CITIZENS CLASH AT BENTON, ILLINOIS.

Follows Double Murder of Ewell Hutchins and Quincy Drummond. Troops Ordered.

Benton, Ill., Sept. 22.—A race riot between American and Polish miners was begun on the town square here tonight as a result of the double murder last night of Ewell Hutchins and Quincy Drummond, who were killed by a band of drunken miners while returning from a Polish dance, where they had furnished the music.

The disturbance soon assumed such proportions that Mayor Espy swore in twenty-five extra policemen and sent for the sheriff of Franklin county. The mayor then mounted a box in the center of the square and sought to pacify the Americans. In spite of his address, trouble started.

Twenty-five foreigners, who appeared on the square, were severely beaten and pursued to their homes in the Polish colony. Every other foreigner who was found on the streets met similar treatment. Fifty Polish miners were arrested today and are being held pending an investigation into the double murder. Three other miners implicated by the testimony of the arrested men at the coroner's inquest are being sought by a posse of seventy-five men, led by the sheriff.

The story of the murder was brought to Benton by Harmon Wyatt, the third member of the party of musicians, who escaped with a bullet wound in the arm and an injured head.

Wyatt and the party of Americans left the dance hall at 11 o'clock last night. Shortly before midnight they were waylaid by a party of about ten miners and attacked with revolvers and clubs. Wyatt said he did not know why they had been attacked.

LOONEY SAYS WILL NOT TEST

Denies Possibility of Proceedings in Court Over Validity of Penitentiary Bonds.

Austin, Tex., Sept. 22.—Attorney General Looney today denied the possibility of his department beginning proceedings in the court in order to test out the validity of the assets of penitentiary bonds, authorized by the last session of the legislature and passed upon favorably by the attorney general's department.

His department will defend the validity of the bonds when the test case comes. It is possible that proceedings may be instituted by some citizen other than the attorney general.

SCHAFF IS ON STAND

REFUSES TO TELL AMOUNT OF "LIES AND OTHER OFFICIALS' SALARIES."

Says Made No Agreement to Give Part of His Salary for Political Purposes.

Wichita Falls, Tex., Sept. 22.—President C. E. Schaff of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, was on the witness stand all this forenoon when the hearing in the state's penalty suit against that road was resumed before Commissioner Thurman Barrett this morning. The questions of Assistant Attorney General Nickels dealt largely with the function of various officers with whom they were required to represent.

Mr. Schaff flatly refused to answer several questions as to the salary received by himself and several other officers of the road. He denied when he assumed the presidency of the road that his salary was fixed at a certain amount with an agreement that part of it was to be used for political purposes or contributed to the commercial secretaries.

As at Dallas, Mr. Schaff professed ignorance on many matters. The persistent use of the word "system" by Mr. Nickels caused some argument. Mr. Schaff repeatedly denying there was any such thing as a Missouri, Kansas and Texas system. Other questions dealt with the stock ownership of the Texas branches, the witness declaring several times that he did not know.

Mr. Schaff left at 1:25 p. m. for St. Louis.

Millions Witness The Funeral of Mayor Gaynor

New York, Sept. 22.—Historic Greenwood cemetery, the resting place in Brooklyn of many famous dead, received the body of New York's late mayor, Wm. Jay Gaynor, at midday today with funeral services in his honor that were without parallel in the history of the city. In the presence of the family, the honorary pall bearers, including Wm. Howard Taft, and city officials, among them Mayor Kline, the flag-draped coffin was committed to the grave in the Gaynor family plot. The brief Episcopal service was read by the Rev. Frank W. Page, former pastor of St. John's, the church where the mayor worshipped.

A million people, it is estimated, saw the funeral cortege move slowly, first from the city hall to Trinity church, where Bishop Greer conducted the solemn services, then back past the city hall, across Brooklyn bridge, through the city streets past the late mayor's Eighth avenue home, and on to the cemetery.

The bell in the tower of the borough hall in Brooklyn tolled for the first time in many years. Numerous church bells also sounded their measured notes. Trinity's first and then in Brooklyn.

When the church services had ended the great masses of flowers that had been in Trinity and the city hall were sent to various hospitals, the choicest among them orchids and chrysanthemums, to St. Mary's, the Holyoke, N. J., institute where Mr. Gaynor lay after being shot down by an assassin three years ago.

Breeds Over Death.

New York, Sept. 22.—Morris Metzgar, a wealthy resident of Rockaway Beach and a lifelong friend of the late Mayor Gaynor, hanged himself in his barn this afternoon as Mayor Gaynor's body was being carried to the grave. The floor of the barn was littered with newspapers giving accounts of the last hours that were being paid Mayor Gaynor. Friends of Mr. Metzgar say he has brooded continuously since news of the mayor's death at sea was received here and they attribute his suicide to the loss of his friend.

Four Girls Killed.

Budapest, Sept. 22.—Four girls who were to become brides yesterday were killed by lightning near the village of Nagy-Varad.

CURED TERRIBLE HUMOR ON FACE

Could Not Go On Street Without Veil. Tells What Resinol Did For Her.

Philadelphia, Dec. 6, 1912. — "In December 1904, my face became sore. I tried everything that was recommended, and my face got worse instead of better. I spent over $100 and got no benefit. The face and eyes were very red and the eruption had the appearance of small boils, which itched me terribly. I cannot tell you how terrible my face looked—all I can say is, it was dreadful, and I suffered beyond description."

"I have not gone on the street any time since 1906 without a veil, until now. Just four months ago a friend persuaded me to give Resinol a trial. I have used three cakes of Resinol Soap and less than a jar of Resinol Ointment, and my face is as clear and clean as any child's." (Signed) Mrs. M. J. Baileman, 4330 Viola St.

Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, but if you have any skin trouble it will cost you nothing to try them. Send to Dept. 14-M, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., for a free sample of each.

All Attempts to Hurry the Currency Bill Are Failures

Washington, Sept. 22.—An attempt to hurry along consideration of the currency bill by the Senate committee failed today at the end of a day of desultory questioning of Samuel Untermyer, who was counsel for the Pujo money trust committee of the last congress. Senator Phaffroth of Colorado tried vainly to force the committee to close the hearings before the committee on Saturday, October 4. No other members of the committee supported his campaign. Senators Reed of Missouri, Bristow of Kansas and Weeks of Massachusetts declared emphatically against any attempt to limit the consideration of the bill.

"I think other members of the committee are beginning to see," said Senator Weeks, "that this bill will take up most of the fall and I propose to call up in the committee soon the resolution I introduced in the senate to allow the bill to go over until the regular session next winter."

In his discussion of the bill Mr. Untermyer criticized vigorously the provisions outlining the character of commercial paper to be used as a basis for currency, declaring that the definition was "hopelessly loose." He said, however, it would be advisable to permit the issue of a certain amount of currency on cotton and grain warehouse receipts. Mr. Untermyer suggested that making good commercial paper a basis for currency would result in depriving stock exchange speculators of the funds now sent to New York for investment in country banks.

Senators Hitchcock and Bristow throughout the day insisted that the bill should confer on members banks in the system, as a matter of right, the authority to go to the federal reserve banks and demand the redemption of their paper. Mr. Untermyer opposed this and also vigorously condemned a scheme proposed by Senator Bristow whereby the regional reserve banks would be eliminated and the member banks allowed to go directly to the government to secure currency on their commercial paper.

The lawyer agreed with Senator Nelson that the reserve notes should be made redeemable in gold and not in "gold or lawful money," as provided by the bill.

The writer was hustled, amid great excitement, out of the shrine where repose the ashes of John the Baptist in Genoa, all because she wore petticoats. But, just the same, handsome women in handsome gowns dance in the cloister of this old California monastery. What is more, some Waco women have done it!

The college set is now widely separated. Somehow their summer at home has not been so gay as formerly. We do not understand why.

Embroidery clubs have a deeper significance than that usually attributed to them. They cultivate friendship, form closer acquaintance and afford respite from the home worries which accompany every woman's life. Understand the disposition of your neighbor and you can get along better with her. The afternoon at embroidery enables one to do this.

In this true? Women who pose as men have been usually men baiters with the wrong kind of worm on their hook.

Why not the young girls of Waco organize a "College Corner club"? These are quite the thing elsewhere. It is stated time, all the girls who have attended college get together, have pen-pal, nana, colors and other favors which smack of college days, tell college stories, and discuss college life. In addition, these often assume a scholarship for some worthy girl, or take up something worth while, as the serious side of the club. Waco needs something like this for her young society girls. Who will take the lead?

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—Philadelphia won the pennant of the American league for this season and its fifth championship in thirteen years' history of the organization by defeating Detroit in the first game of the championship series.

Philadelphia scored two runs in the second, third, fourth and fifth innings. Both moved up on Strunk's bunt and scored on the double squeeze play when Barry was thrown out on a bunt. The other two tallies were secured by bunting hits in the third and fifth innings. The one run needed to decide the issue in the second game was scored in the second inning. Dubeu gave McNinn a pass. The latter was forced by Walsh, who stole second base and tallied on Lapp's single to right field. Pennock twirled for two innings, during which Detroit got two hits and a pass. Plank pitched the last seven innings. He was in trouble in the third inning, when with two out Crawford and Cobb each singled and Burns was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases. Plank then fanned Gibson. In the last six innings Detroit did not get a runner past first.

Defeat Humiliating.
London, Sept. 22.—The defeat of Harry Vardon and Edward Ray by young Francis Ouimet at Brookline, Mass., is described as "humiliating" by John Henry Taylor, British open golf champion, in a statement to the press today.

"Youth has no nerves," he contends. "Youngsters playing golf do not realize how difficult it is to play really well. Ouimet is a splendid golfer, endowed with splendid nerves."
Vardon and Ray knew they carried on their shoulders the golf reputation of this country. That did not make their task easier.

Taylor won his first championship in England at the age of 23.

"Ty" Signs Bank Notes.
Washington, Sept. 22.—Collectors doubtless will be on the lookout soon for some national bank notes which were signed a few days ago by "Ty" Cobb, centerfielder of the Detroit baseball club. When the star player was here the other day he was shown through the treasury department and asked to see some bank notes of the First National bank of Lenoir, Ga.

On informing the officer in charge that he was a director in that bank and as such entitled to sign money printed for that institution, the ball player placed his signature to several sheets of the notes.

Hunt Big Game.
Bangor, Maine, Sept. 22.—Sportsmen coming to Maine to hunt big game this fall will find that the high cost of living has been succeeded by a high cost of killing, because the state will charge $25 each for licenses to shoot moose and deer, while heretofore the permit have been $10.

The moose hunting season has also been curtailed from six weeks to one month. In past years it has extended from October 15 to December 1, but now will be confined to the thirty days of November, minus Sundays. It is said by woodmen that moose have increased in number the past year.

Tom Keene Cigar

If you are a traveler you can't remember when you couldn't buy a Tom Keene most any place you went and if you stop and think a minute, you will recall that the Tom Keene was always the same—sweet—mild—free even burning cigar in every locality.

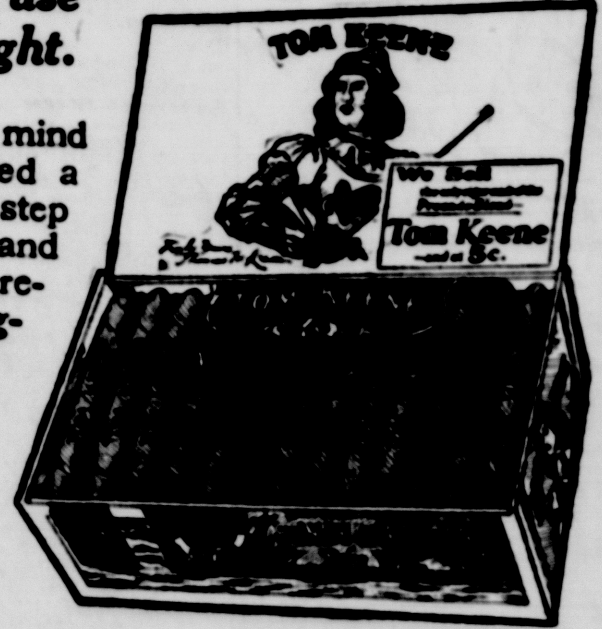

All this talk about a cigar being run down after it has been on the market a few years is all "tommy rot," at least as far as Tom Keene is concerned—if there is any difference, Tom Keenes are better, for the manufacturers select the fine long filler from tobaccos grown in the great "Mano" district and use the best Sumatra wrapper that can be bought.

THE SECRET

Long filler—selected from the choice tobacco grown in the great "Mano" district properly blended and wrapped with a fine Sumatra—burns free and even—always mild, sweet and fragrant—sounds easy, don't it—but it took many years of tobacco education and experience to produce the Tom Keene you are buying—it's the product of the best tobacco brains of the country.

If there is any doubt in your mind and if you have not smoked a Tom Keene in a long time step into any first class dealer and try one today—smoke it carefully—note the delightful fragrance—yet mild, also how even and free it burns.

INTEREST IN NOMINATIONS.

Heated Race Between Katsbach and Fielder in New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 22.—On the eve of the primaries in New Jersey for the nomination of candidates for offices from governor down, chief interest centered in the contest between Acting Governor James F. Fielder and Frank S. Katsbach Jr. for the democratic nomination for governor.

The campaign manager for Mr. Fielder, who has the endorsement of President Wilson, says the acting governor will win by 30,000 to 40,000 plurality. The Katsbach managers claim their candidate will lead by about 10,000 plurality.

Former Governor Edward C. Stokes is expected to win in the republican primaries for the gubernatorial nomination over State Senator Carlton E. Pierce, former Judge Robert Carey and ex-Congressman Charles N. Fowler.

A bitter fight is on among the progressives for the gubernatorial nomination.

Former Senator Everett Colby and Edmund R. Osborne are the rival candidates.

PUPILS STRIKE.

One Thousand Are Indefinitely Suspended at Syracuse.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 22.—One thousand pupils of the three Syracuse high schools were indefinitely suspended late today from a strike this morning as a protest against new hours of study, 9 o'clock in the morning to 2:30 in the afternoon. The striking pupils, many of whom were girls, escaped through windows and side doors, paraded the business streets and held an indignation meeting. At the Technical high school one boy attempted to top dress a crowd of strikers from the top of a barrel, but was pulled down by the police. The pupils demand a return to the old hours, from 8:30 to 1:50 p. m.

MINERS WILL CONTEST.

A Recent Ruling Against Picketing Causes Vigorous Objections.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 22.—Officials of the Western Federation of Miners gave notice tonight that the injunction granted by Circuit Judge O'Brien prohibiting picketing and parading by copper strikers while men are going to or returning from work was contested vigorously. A hearing this week will be asked on the ground that the injunction is in restraint of the rights of the strikers.

Five hundred militia men remain in the strike district, but it is expected this force will be reduced next week. A large force of deputies will be maintained.

Markets by Telegram

Cotton.

New York, Sept. 22.—After opening at new high records for the season the cotton market became nervous and unsettled today with prices breaking sharply under heavy demand and nervousness over conflicting Washington reports as to prospective legislation. Local trading did not start until noon, owing to the funeral services of the late Mayor Gaynor, and by that hour there appeared to be quite an accumulation of bullish features. Both New Orleans and Liverpool had shown pronounced strength during the morning, while there were numerous bullish crop reports and first prices were steady at an advance of 11 to 15 points. December contracts sold at 14.52 during the first few minutes. An advance of $1 per bale from the low point reached since the publication of the September bureau. Reports of light frosts in the Carolinas, Alabama and Mississippi and of unusually low temperature in the western belt tended to increase apprehension of a short growing season, and probably accounted for a good deal of buying through wire and commission houses.

A monthly report by a prominent Georgia authority and a bulletin from the U. S. department of agriculture, as to the prospects in Northern Alabama from a well-known traveling expert also contributed to the early advance, but the market encountered very heavy selling by recent big buyers around the opening figures and prices turned easier. As the market worked off realizing or liquidation became general owing to rumors that the senate conference on the tariff bill were insisting upon the addition of the Clarke amendment with reference to the cotton futures tax and active months sold 12 to 14 points net lower. Later reports from Washington were more favorable as to legislative prospects and there were rallies of 4 to 5 points with the close steady at a net decline of 7 to 11 points.

New Orleans, Sept. 22.—Fluctuations in the price of cotton today were dominated by news from Washington regarding the proposal to put a tax on future contracts. Several times during the day most unfavorable telegrams came from Washington carrying the rumor that the Clarke amendment, imposing a tax of 50 cents a bale on future trades was receiving favorable consideration. The rumors caused setbacks and at one time a material decline.

Around the close the market steadied when it was shown that none of the unfavorable reports could be confirmed. On the opening the tone was steady and prices were 6 to 10 points up on good cables and the cold weather suffered by the cotton belt over Sunday. Bulls put out many telegrams claiming that the low temperatures had checked the growth of cotton and considerable outside buying came in, which put the trading months up until they were 15 to 17 points over Saturday's close. From the opening the unfavorable rumors from Washington worked against the market and at noon the advance was almost lost. In the afternoon prices were 11 to 12 points under Saturday's final quotations. The close was steady at a net loss of 3 to 5 points.

Weather news was regarded as decidedly unfavorable. Not only were temperatures unusually low on the whole, but too much rain fell in the eastern belt and the trade called the forecast of increasing cloudiness for the western belt highly unfavorable, because, taken in connection with the low area in the west, it pointed to the possibility of more rain.

FUTURES.

New Orleans, Sept. 22.—Cotton futures closed steady at a net decline of 3 to 5 points.

Grain.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Visible supply figures very close to fifty million bushels against thirty million a year ago, today acted as a weight on wheat. The market finished nervous at 1/4 to 1/8c net decline, oats, off 1/4 to 1/8c and provisions decried by 1/2 to 20 cents.

Besides the increase in the United States visible supply an enlargement of 2,760,000 bushels in Canadian wheat had the effect of swamping the trade. There was also continued uneasiness in regard to Winnipeg reports that the Canadian cabinet had been summoned to meet Premier Borden in Ottawa and that despite the previous anti-reciprocity policy the outcome might be to send Canadian wheat in huge shipments into the United States duty free.

Fear that frost had caused more damage than popularly supposed but corn on the upgrade, notwithstanding early weakness in sympathy with wheat. Most of Iowa and part of Illinois was affected by the freezing weather last night.

Oats parted company with corn and followed wheat, influenced in a measure by apprehension as to possible reciprocity action by the Canadian government.

Moreover the visible supply was reported as the largest on record, 30,830,000 bushels, against 8,790,000 a year ago. The market encountered very heavy selling by recent big buyers around the opening figures and prices turned easier. As the market worked off realizing or liquidation became general owing to rumors that the senate conference on the tariff bill were insisting upon the addition of the Clarke amendment with reference to the cotton futures tax and active months sold 12 to 14 points net lower. Later reports from Washington were more favorable as to legislative prospects and there were rallies of 4 to 5 points with the close steady at a net decline of 7 to 11 points.

New Orleans, Sept. 22.—Fluctuations in the price of cotton today were dominated by news from Washington regarding the proposal to put a tax on future contracts. Several times during the day most unfavorable telegrams came from Washington carrying the rumor that the Clarke amendment, imposing a tax of 50 cents a bale on future trades was receiving favorable consideration. The rumors caused setbacks and at one time a material decline.

Around the close the market steadied when it was shown that none of the unfavorable reports could be confirmed. On the opening the tone was steady and prices were 6 to 10 points up on good cables and the cold weather suffered by the cotton belt over Sunday. Bulls put out many telegrams claiming that the low temperatures had checked the growth of cotton and considerable outside buying came in, which put the trading months up until they were 15 to 17 points over Saturday's close. From the opening the unfavorable rumors from Washington worked against the market and at noon the advance was almost lost. In the afternoon prices were 11 to 12 points under Saturday's final quotations. The close was steady at a net loss of 3 to 5 points.

Weather news was regarded as decidedly unfavorable. Not only were temperatures unusually low on the whole, but too much rain fell in the eastern belt and the trade called the forecast of increasing cloudiness for the western belt highly unfavorable, because, taken in connection with the low area in the west, it pointed to the possibility of more rain.

600 MATRICULATE ON FIRST DAY

NEW STUDENTS WILL SWELL
BAYLOR ROLLS THIS MORNING.

CLASSIFICATION CONTINUES

Preparation of First Year Men Greater Than Ever Before—No Formal Program.

Six hundred students had matriculated for the work of the fall term of Baylor university when the office of the registrar closed at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon. This lacks twenty-two of reaching the number that enrolled the first day of last year, but it does not mean that the officials of the university were wrong in their prophecy that this year's enrollment would exceed that of former years. They were still of this opinion last night, believing the smaller enrollment on the first day, by the small margin of twenty-two, was due to the fact that a larger proportion of the student body this year is composed of new pupils, who did not enroll the first day.

Others Coming In.
Registration and classification occupied the whole of yesterday and will continue today. There will be still more students coming in tonight and tomorrow and throughout the next few weeks, but these will be taken care of without interruption to the regular class work, which will begin tomorrow morning, following the formal opening exercises.

Yesterday was a strenuous day for everybody about the university, being particularly so on account of the new regulation which prescribes that pupils coming from non-affiliated schools shall stand entrance examinations. This situation was due to the fact that, however, and there will be no delay in the beginning of actual class work on Wednesday morning.

No Formal Affair.
Nothing formal marked yesterday's proceedings. There was an informal chapel exercise in Carroll chapel, where announcements for the day were made, following a brief devotional service. Then the work of the day began. Today's program is also informal and the only formality connected with the whole opening will come Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, when the new members of the faculty will be presented and President Brooks will make an address. To this function the general public is cordially invited.

PLAN SANITORIUM AND BATHS

Proposition to Be Taken Up at the Y.
M. B. L. Meeting Tonight.

The proposition for building a sanatorium and bath house, which has been recommended for some time by E. H. Hirschfeld, Bart Moore and others of this city, will be taken up at the meeting of the Young Men's Business League board of control tonight. The bath house plan, if carried through, will give Waco the same railroad rates as Martin and the other winter resorts of Texas. It is thought that this is an appropriate time for launching the bath house proposition, as the hot water has already been obtained on Bell's Hill by the recent work of the Hot Well Development company, and the Hot Well company still has $6,499 in the treasury, the same amount with which it started out. This sum will be a good starter for the $20,000 or $25,000 which it is estimated the bath house will cost. Those who are suggesting the move hope that it will result in bringing a large number of winter tourists to Waco. Success in establishing Waco as a summer resort will be made easier by the fact that the deeper water in the Brazos will make a ten-mile lake when the lock and dam below town is completed, and is expected to furnish excellent facilities for amusement features, such as riverside parks and pavilions, bathing houses and boating facilities.

Among the other matters to be taken up are the interurban trip to Dallas during the state fair, and the report of the home industries committee. These two will be presented by W. E. Edgar and J. H. Harvey, respectively.

President W. C. Crawford requests that all members of the directorate be present.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

Total for First Day Exceeds 1912
Figures by 467—More Are Coming.

The Waco public schools opened yesterday with an increase of 467 pupils over last year. The total enrollment for the first day was 4763, as against 4296 on the first day last year. This includes 262 pupils in the colored schools.

The enrollment of the high school was 522. The ward schools reported the following enrollment:
North Fourth street school, 180; Bell's Hill, 390; North Waco, 168; Columbus street, 180; South Eighth street, 562; South Third street, 303; East Waco, 412; Brook avenue, 315; Sanger avenue, 452; Central, 498; Orphanage, 109.

Miss Susie Markham Jones, B. S., Columbia university; private instruction, after October 1, 1913. Residence, No. 1765 Washington street.

AMUSEMENTS GALORE PROPOSAL IS REJECTED

DANCES WILL BE FREQUENT
DURING THE TEXAS COT-TON PALACE.

Directors Review the Program as Far as Prepared—Circus to Be Big Card.

Going over the tentative program last night, the directors of the Texas Cotton Palace decided there will be plenty of amusement for those who enjoy that pleasure, balls being plentifully sprinkled through the two weeks of the big show.

With a wealth of music in attendance during the time of the Cotton Palace, it will be possible to allow dancing nearly every night of the exposition, and this is expected to add to the gaiety of the affair.

Secretary Mayfield's report on the free attractions indicates there will be something thrilling every little while during the day, starting during the forenoon and continuing until late at night. One feature that will be new to Cotton Palace attractions will be the Roman chariot races in an arena that will be especially constructed for the big affair.

The circus that is being arranged for by local talent promises to be the biggest affair of the whole gathering. Tom M. Hamilton, who was requested to take charge of the arrangements for the affair, has reported to the directors that he has appointed as general for the entertainment Charles E. Moore, W. W. Cameron, Clifford Beckley, John T. Dollins, R. M. Baldie, M. B. Davis, Will Burrows, John C. Ray, Mike Adam, Pat Hopkins, Sam R. Scott, S. P. Ross, Mayor James H. Mackey, Judge George N. Denton, Clint Fidditt and President W. H. Hoffmann of the Cotton Palace.

Indications are that the arrangements for the Cotton Palace are in better shape than ever before at this time. Decorations are proceeding and the interior finishings will be more magnificent than ever before.

CITY COMMISSION IS DIVIDED

On Question of Opening Tenth Street.
Street Commissioner With Minority.

Objection to opening Tenth street, which is proposed by some as a means of reaching the Brook avenue school, is deprecated by a majority of the city commission. This stand, however, is not concurred in by Street Commissioner Foster. Mr. Foster believes that, because of the agreement of property owners on the proposed street to lay sidewalks and put the street into condition in consideration of the city opening the street, their proposal is a good one. He states that if an objection from the residents of Ninth and School streets, adjoining thoroughfares, on either side of the proposed Tenth street, is made he would not insist on the opening of Tenth.

Want Sidewalks for Schools.
The question came up at the last meeting of the city commission, when a delegation appeared to request that Tenth street be opened to the Brook school, adjoining, as property owners intended, to lay sidewalks. The city, they said, was taken in order to provide sidewalks and a good thoroughfare to the school.

Objection to this proposal, however, was raised, because it included a proposal to narrow both Ninth and School streets. Members of the commission favor grading School and Ninth streets to the Brook school, and providing gravel sidewalks on these streets for school children, rather than opening up a new street.

In company with Superintendent of Schools J. C. Lattimore and others interested, Mr. Foster visited the site of the proposed new street yesterday afternoon. He will probably bring the matter up at this morning's meeting of the commission.

ROOMS OF NEW Y. M. C. A. OPENED

REOPENING A SYMPHONY OF ORATORY, MUSIC AND FEASTING.

BOYS FIRST TAKE POSSESSION

Young Folks' Reception Followed By
Brilliant Affair at Night—State
Secretary Makes Address.

Success beyond the anticipations of the most sanguine attended the formal opening of the Young Men's Christian association building yesterday. Beginning with an informal reception for the youthful members and concluding with formal social affair, which was a veritable symphony of oratory, feasting and music, the occasion was made a memorable one.

Youthful exuberance knocked the afternoon schedule higher than Gilroy's kite. The appointed time for the boy members to begin their festivities was 4 o'clock, but there was a flock of youngsters at the doors two hours before.

L. A. COULTER
State Secretary Y. M. C. A. Campaign
Leader.

fore that time. Having no classes on the opening day of the school term, the boys got out for the Young Men's Christian association.

Boys Beat the Schedule.
They were met by A. J. Flowers, the big, good-natured, smiling secretary of the boys' department, which has just been organized as a separate division of the association. Secretary Flowers, who knows all about boys, consulted with General Secretary S. R. Hankins, and they decided that it would be nothing short of cruelty to keep the young fellows waiting. So they threw open the doors of the boys' lobby and eager and expectant throngs took possession. The boys manifested a degree of delight and amazement as they surveyed the fine quarters provided for them and the finishing touches are yet to be given by the large force of mechanics employed. The building was closed practically five months while the reconstruction work was in progress. There were nearly 500 members of the association, who were assembled in the gymnasium, and it is confidently expected that within a short time present membership will be doubled through the efforts of the men's campaign committee.

Flowers Guides Them.
Mr. Flowers walked through the rooms with the young members, explaining to them the uses to which each room was to be devoted and talking to the boys about the rules and regulations they would be expected to observe under the new order of things. Then he left them to amuse themselves in their own way. They found the same room roomed for the boys' department. The boys proceeded to make things hum throughout the afternoon hours. This room is equipped with much attractive paraphernalia for the diversion of youth. There is a shuffleboard table, an indoor tennis table and a quoit board among the games. There were also checkers and other games in which youngsters find delight are placed conveniently and where they will least obstruct the free movement of a crowd of spirited youngsters.

Depart Reluctantly.
There reading room, stocked with suitable literature, including the weekly and monthly publications devoted to boys' sports and fiction for young folks; a spacious room to be used as a reception, banquet and assembly hall, as the occasion requires; the gymnasium and swimming pool and separate lockers, all exclusively for the use of the boys' department. The young folks departed regretfully at 6 o'clock, the hour for closing their festivities. A membership campaign will be inaugurated by the boys' department tomorrow, and the boys' department appointed, as previously announced, and they will hold their first meeting to map out plans at a luncheon today at the noon hour.

The Night Reception.
The crowd at the night reception was just as late assembling as the boys had been early. The reception was held in the men's lobby and reading room, which embraced the front half of the main floor. The throng was not great at the opening, but it increased steadily and rapidly until the closing time. Many remained half an hour or so and went to their homes. Others remained for the entire evening. Everybody had an enjoyable time and a great future was predicted for the Waco Y. M. C. A.

General Secretary S. R. Hankins, Secretary Flowers of the boys' department and other members of the executive force acted as guides, leading the members and their ladies through the completed rooms and corridors of the building. The third floor was not shown to the visiting throng because the walls are yet to be plastered and the whole third story is littered with lime and mortar and lath. The new story added to the building will be occupied by dormitory renters. The grown folks invaded the boys' quarters and evinced much interest in what they saw there.

The Enlarged Quarters.
The occupancy arrangement of the remodeled structure is as follows:
Main floor—Men's lobby and reading room, front hall; boys' lobby and room in rear; gymnasium; club room; between men's and boys' departments.

Second floor—Dormitory and private rooms, modern equipment with all conveniences.
Third floor—Dormitory and private room accommodations.
Basement—Bathrooms, baths and lockers. Special lockers are provided for the business men. The swimming pool here located is 20 by 30 feet and contains 40,000 gallons of water, which is kept fresh and clean and which will be sanitary and of suitable temperature summer and winter.

The old building was modernized and enlarged to meet imperative demands, the space heretofore available being cramped in the matter of sleeping room accommodations. The work began last April and the finishing touches are yet to be given by the large force of mechanics employed. The building was closed practically five months while the reconstruction work was in progress. There were nearly 500 members of the association, who were assembled in the gymnasium, and it is confidently expected that within a short time present membership will be doubled through the efforts of the men's campaign committee.

Phenomenal Growth.
State Secretary L. A. Coulter found a large audience waiting when he arrived. Mr. Coulter delivered an address shortly after 8 o'clock. He began by congratulating the local association upon the splendid progress it had made since its organization and upon the greater and more modern building which stands as a monument to the earnestness and energetic work of the old members.

Reviewing the history and growth of the Y. M. C. A., he said that in the last twenty-five years the national religious organization of which the local Y. M. C. A. is but a small branch, has grown in wealth and influence as well as in religious fervor. A quarter of a century ago the total value of the buildings and lands owned by the association in the United States was $7,600,000; today it is $1,000,000. There has been an increase of $5,999,999 in the last ten years, he said. The total membership of the Y. M. C. A. in the United States, Mr. Coulter said, is $97,000.

Recognizes the Social Side.
"The Y. M. C. A.," he said, "is an aggressive religious organization. It is evangelistic. It takes cognizance, however, of the fact that a man has a body; that he has social and literary tastes; that he has a human side to him. That is why it has buildings like this in which the men may find comfort and indulge in social and literary pleasures, athletic sports and the like."

The state secretary attracted and held the interest of his audience to the end. Mr. Coulter was accompanied by his son, B. W. Coulter, a civil engineer, on his visit to Waco. They returned at 4 o'clock this morning to Dallas.

Arrangements for the social function were in the hands of the directors of the association, who were assisted by a committee of ladies of which Mrs. Jessie Grey Smith was chairman. Refreshments were served during the evening by the ladies.

The officers directors and executive force are as follows:
C. L. Johnson, president; R. F. Gribble, vice president; B. H. Hill, treasurer; E. W. Hander, recording secretary.

Directors—E. M. Ainsworth, J. B. Fisher, Albert Hoggess, M. Falkner, W. H. McCullough, W. W. Wood, L. C. Crow, T. C. Caulfield, C. A. Boynton, F. A. Winchell and E. F. Drake.

Executive force—S. R. Hankins, general secretary; A. J. Flowers, boys' secretary; S. C. Pew, physical director; B. F. Knebel, assistant physical director.

O. LOTSHAW'S STORY COMING TO BANQUET

KATY FIREMAN STAR WITNESS AT CORONER'S IN-QUEST.

He Gives Minute Details of the Midnight Crash in Which McKechnie Was Killed.

Oscar Lotshaw, an extra fireman in the employ of the Katy railroad, as a witness before Judge Harvey M. Richey in the inquest proceedings held in connection with the death of Alexander McKechnie, which occurred Saturday night, cleared up all the semblance of mystery which had been thrown over the fatality.

Lotshaw stated to the coroner that he was driving together with his wife and three children, near the country farm about 8:30 o'clock Saturday night, when the accident occurred. He said that the driver of the buggy in which McKechnie was riding was directly upon his buggy when he first saw the vehicle, that he turned to the right and that the front wheel of the other vehicle struck the left front wheel of his vehicle, passing over the hub of his buggy. He said the shaft of his vehicle was broken and it was impossible for him to abandon it.

Did Not Recognize Death.
He asked John McKechnie if the man whom he saw on the ground was dead and received the reply that he was not. He suggested taking the man to a doctor and John McKechnie told him that he could get a doctor in five minutes.

The inquest will be continued further and John McKechnie, son of the dead man, will be called as a witness. McKechnie was killed when a buggy in which he was riding ran into a buggy driven by Mr. Lotshaw on the public road.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, interment being at Oakwood.

At the Theatres.

That resourceful comedian, Salem Tutt Whitney, is to appear in a brand-new musical comedy, Saturday matinee and night. It is entitled "The Wrong Man," and it is a comedy of the most humorous and entertaining kind.

Reviewing the history and growth of the Y. M. C. A., he said that in the last twenty-five years the national religious organization of which the local Y. M. C. A. is but a small branch, has grown in wealth and influence as well as in religious fervor. A quarter of a century ago the total value of the buildings and lands owned by the association in the United States was $7,600,000; today it is $1,000,000.
